Case Study

Global Safety Network Ensures They Pay People Properly with the Help of QCommission

Global Safety Network is a “national provider of risk management solutions.” Their company provides employers with work place solutions to promote ease of hiring, employee retention, compliance and confidence. Global Safety Network’s commitment to customer satisfaction makes them one of the leading providers of employment screening services in the country.

Aside from the wide array of management solutions they provide, Global Safety Network also has hundreds of discounted products that one can purchase to further ensure a safe and drug-free workplace.

Global Safety Network has different commission plans for multiple payees. They pay commissions for their internal sales reps, independent sales reps, and alliance partners. For them, paying commissions is also based on different products, calculating different commission rates based on date.

Manually doing all of the above took a lot of time and effort, not to mention the entire process was prone to errors – which could cost a lot of money if not corrected promptly.

After Global Safety Network submitted a Demo Inquiry for QCommission, the QCommission team met with Karyn Skyberg, a Senior Analyst at the company, and discussed everything that needed to be considered in the development of a custom solution. The QCommission team exerted all their effort to ensure that the sales compensation plans and the entire customization were setup properly and to Global Safety Network’s satisfaction.

Since Global Safety Network switched to QCommission, the countless hours of manual sales commission computations have been drastically reduced to an average of 8 hours per month.

With Global Safety Network’s inevitable growth in the near future, they are expecting an increased number of payees and are looking forward to continuously working with QCommission to help them manage their sales commissions calculations for them.

Global Safety Network has been with QCommission for over a year.

Quote

"Our company is faced with a number of different commission plans for multiple payees. We faced some challenges that, we have to admit, had us slightly concerned. A discussion with our QCommission Representative had everyone stepping up to identify problems to help us resolve our issues quickly and to our complete satisfaction. We could easily see how important 100% customer satisfaction is for everyone on the QCommission team. They are very knowledgeable and helpful, and we appreciate every effort they put in for us to make our transition to QCommission a success. A special thank you to Vijay, Siva, Chandru, and everyone else on the QCommission team. We appreciate all of your help and look forward to working with you in the future as our business continues to grow."
